

BRACU Knowledge Base

BRAC University (BRACU)

BRAC University was inaugurated on June 16, 2001, by Sir Fazle Hasan Abed, the founder of BRAC, which is the world's largest non-governmental organization. The university follows an American liberal arts college model, emphasizing interdisciplinary education and critical thinking. It is located in Merul Badda, Dhaka, on a permanent 14-story city campus designed by the Singaporean architectural firm WOHA. This award-winning sustainable campus, inspired by the Sundarbans mangrove forest, harvests sunlight, rainwater, and wind for its energy needs and won the LafargeHolcim Award for sustainable construction.

The university serves over 21,000 students with 649 faculty members across 15 schools, departments, and institutes. Its academic structure includes the BRAC Business School, the BRAC James P Grant School of Public Health, the BSRM School of Engineering, the School of Architecture and Design, the School of Data and Computational Sciences, the School of Fashion and Design, the School of General Education, the School of Humanities and Social Sciences, the School of Law, the School of Life Sciences, and the School of Pharmacy. Research institutes include the BRAC Development Institute, the BRAC Institute of Educational Development, and the BRAC Institute of Languages.

Admission to BRACU requires a minimum HSC GPA of 3.5, with a written admission test covering English, mathematics, and critical thinking, followed by an interview for select programs. The university follows a semester system with intakes in Spring, Summer, and Fall. The application fee is BDT 1,500. Graduate programs include MBA, Executive MBA, Master of Public Health, and various MSc degrees.

Scholarships include merit-based awards of up to 100 percent tuition, need-based scholarships, the Founder's Scholarship named after Sir Fazle Hasan Abed, Dean's List awards, sports and cultural scholarships, freedom fighter quota scholarships, sibling discounts of 15 percent, and alumni scholarships of 10 percent.

Tuition fees at BRACU are relatively high. CSE and EEE cost approximately BDT 70,000 to 85,000 per semester, BBA costs BDT 65,000 to 75,000, architecture costs BDT 80,000 to 90,000, and law costs BDT 60,000 to 70,000. The one-time admission fee is BDT 20,000 to 30,000.

Student life at BRACU is enriched by its diverse student body, which includes students from 27 countries. The university's clubs include the BRACU Business Club, Computer Club, Cultural Club, Debating Society, Film Society, Photography Club, Robotics Club, IEEE Student Branch, Law and Moot Court Society, Environment Club, Volunteer Organization, Music Club, Dance Club, Sports Club, and Model UN Club. The Ayesha Abed Library was one of the first fully digitized libraries in Bangladesh, and the university offers a residential semester program at its Savar countryside campus.

BRACU has graduated over 26,000 students who have gone on to careers in business, development, public health, and academia worldwide. In rankings, QS World University Rankings 2026 places it at 1201-1400 globally and 260th in Asia, while THE World University Rankings places it at 1001-1200 globally and 501-600 in Asia. EduRank ranks it fifth in Bangladesh. The university maintains strong ties with BRAC's global development network, providing students with unique internship and research opportunities in development work.

The university's career services office actively connects students with employers, and the BRACU alumni network is growing. Faculty recruitment is conducted through the university website and international academic job portals.

Admission Process

BRAC University offers undergraduate and graduate admissions for Spring, Summer, and Fall semesters. For undergraduate admission, minimum qualifications require SSC/O-Levels GPA of 3.5 and HSC/A-Levels GPA of 3.5 (or equivalent). For O-Levels, minimum GPA 2.5 in five subjects (A=5, B=4, C=3, D=2). For A-Levels, minimum GPA 2.5 in two subjects. IB-DP requires minimum DP Score of 24. Candidates for EEE, ECE, CSE, APE, and Physics must have B grade in Physics and Mathematics in HSC or C grade in A-Levels. Candidates for BSc in Computer Science and Mathematics must have B grade in Mathematics in HSC or C grade in A-Levels. Bachelor of Pharmacy requires minimum aggregate GPA of 8.00 out of 10 with no grade lower than 3.50 in SSC/O-Levels and HSC/A-Levels, plus minimum GPA 3.50 in Chemistry and Biology in both examinations. The admission test format varies by program: BSS in Anthropology, BA in English, LLB (Hons) test on English; BBA and BSS in Economics test on English and Mathematics; BSc programs test on English, Mathematics, Higher Mathematics, and Physics; B.Arch tests English, Mathematics, and Drawing; Pharmacy, Microbiology, Biotechnology test English, Mathematics, Biology, and Chemistry. Candidates must pass each subsection separately. Qualified candidates are called for an interview for final selection. Break of studies up to three years is accepted. Transfer of credits from other institutions is permitted for a maximum of 2 courses per semester and 8 courses total. Application fee: Tk. 1,500 (non-refundable). International students pay US $20 application fee. Applicants should contact admissions@bracu.ac.bd for specific guidance.

Degrees Offered

BRAC University offers a comprehensive range of undergraduate and graduate programs. Undergraduate programs include Bachelor of Architecture (B.Arch, 207 credits), Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA, 130 credits), BSc in Computer Science and Engineering (CSE, 136 credits), BSc in Computer Science (CS, 124 credits), BSc in Electronic and Communication Engineering (ECE, 136 credits), BSc in Electrical and Electronic Engineering (EEE, 136 credits), BSS in Anthropology (120 credits), BSS in Economics (120 credits), BA in English (120 credits), BA in Applied English Language Studies, LLB (Hons) (135 credits), BSc in Physics (132 credits), BSc in Applied Physics and Electronics (130 credits), BSc in Mathematics (127 credits), BSc in Microbiology (136 credits), BSc in Biotechnology (136 credits), Bachelor of Pharmacy (Hons) (164 credits), and Bachelor of Disaster Management. Campus and Facilities Overview

BRAC University's new permanent campus is located at Kha 224 Pragati Sarani, Merul Badda, Dhaka 1212. The campus spans 5 acres with a 1,700,000 sq. ft. building area, designed by the world-renowned Singapore-based WOHA Architects Pte Ltd. The 13-story campus is a landmark in Dhaka's urban landscape. The Ayesha Abed Library on the 8th and 9th floors houses over 45,000 books along with AR/VR facilities for immersive learning. The campus features an Alumni Lounge for graduates to reconnect and network. The campus is conveniently located near Hatirjhil, Rampura, Aftabnagar, Banasree, Niketon, Mohakhali, Gulshan, Banani, and Baridhara residential areas. BRACU also has a Savar campus branch. Facilities include modern classrooms, state-of-the-art laboratories, computer labs, science labs, auditoriums, seminar rooms, and student lounges. The campus provides WiFi connectivity throughout. The university has an Innovation Hub incubating student and faculty startups. Sports facilities and recreational areas are available. The campus medical center provides healthcare services. Transport services were planned to resume from 2024.

Scholarships and Financial Aid Overview

BRAC University provides a wide range of scholarships and financial aid. Types include: (a) Based on Previous Academic Results; (b) Based on BRACU Admission Test Results; (c) Merit Scholarship Based on BRACU Academic Results; (d) Sibling Scholarship; (e) BRAC Scholarship (needs-based, 100% tuition and fees with food and accommodation for economically disadvantaged but meritorious students); (f) Physically Challenged Students; (g) Children of Freedom Fighter; (h) Debater's Blue Scholarship; (i) Children of BRACU Staff and Faculty. Merit Scholarship based on BracU Academic Results (effective Summer 2024): CGPA 3.70-3.84 = 10%, 3.85-3.89 = 25%, 3.90-3.94 = 50%, 3.95-3.99 = 75%, 4.00 = 100% tuition waiver. Undergraduate students must complete at least 30 credits, take minimum 12 credits (15 for Law, 18 for Pharmacy). Postgraduate students must complete at least 1/4th of credits, take minimum 9 credits (6 credits from Summer 2024). Students with retake/repeat courses or W/F grades are ineligible. BRAC Scholarship recipients must maintain CGPA 3.00. Tuition fee waiver for postgraduate programs: Graduates from public and UGC-approved universities get 20-40% waiver based on undergraduate CGPA. BRACU graduates get 40% waiver. For MBA/EMBA: BRACU graduates with CGPA 3.00+ get 25% waiver; other university graduates get up to 20% based on CGPA; female and 3rd gender students get 10% waiver; ethnic background students get 25% waiver; corporate/institute discount 10-20%. International postgraduate students get 10-40% waiver based on undergraduate results. International BRAC Scholarship: 100% tuition and fees with food and accommodation. Only one waiver type per student. Waivers depend on fund availability. Renewal requires minimum 12 credits (18 for Pharmacy).

Notable Features

BRAC University is the only Bangladeshi university founded by Sir Fazle Hasan Abed, a world-renowned development pioneer and the founder of BRAC, the world's largest NGO. BRACU is the first Bangladeshi educational institution to launch a nanosatellite, BRAC

Onnesha, designed, developed, and tested by its students in collaboration with Kyushu Institute of Technology and JAXA, launched to the ISS on June 4, 2017. The university pioneered Bangladesh's first CubeSat project. BRAC University was the first Bangladeshi university to use Rhodes Scholars and Marshall Scholars among its graduates. The Ayesha Abed Library was the first digitized library in Bangladesh. The university follows a liberal arts approach to education, unique in Bangladesh. Professor Mahbubul Alam Majumdar, Dean of School of Data and Sciences, received the Ekushey Padak (Education, 2026) and Spirit of Abdus Salam Award (2026). Under his coaching, Bangladesh won its first gold medal at the International Mathematical Olympiad (IMO) in 2018. BRACU developed buX, an asynchronous online learning platform, during COVID-19. The university offers the first Joint PhD program in Bangladesh (with SOAS University of London). The new Merul Badda campus was designed by world-renowned WOHA Architects. BRACU is the only Bangladeshi university with AACSB membership for its business school.

Research output of 8,000-9,000 works, primarily in Medicine, Computer Science, and Social Sciences.

Research

BRAC University has a strong research portfolio with 8,000-9,000 research outputs primarily in Medicine, Computer Science, and Social Sciences. The Central Research and Innovation Office (CRIO) coordinates research activities under Professor Malay Kanti Mridha, PhD. Key research centers include the James P Grant School of Public Health (JPGSPH) conducting innovative public health research funded by multiple international donors, with a focus on marginalized and vulnerable populations. BRAC Institute of Governance and Development (BIGD) promotes research on poverty, inequity, and social injustice. The university has research groups including Human-Centered Computing and Society (HCCS) focusing on HCI, social computing, digital health, and community-focused technologies. The Robotics Lab under Dr. Khalilur Rhaman develops robots like CHONDROBOT (participated in NASA Lunabotics Mining Competitions) and works on nanosatellite technology. BRAC Onnesha, Bangladesh's first CubeSat by an educational institution, was launched to the ISS in 2017. BRACU ASTRON works on satellite design and development. Research in smart grid technology, cybersecurity, biosensors, and renewable energy is active in the EEE department. Recent publications include systematic reviews on smart grid monitoring, AI-powered cybersecurity for smart grids, and self-powered biosensors in Q1 journals. Research funding comes from international donors, government agencies, and institutional support. buX, the university's online learning platform, was developed under Professor Mahbubul Alam Majumdar's supervision during COVID-19. The university offers a Joint PhD program with SOAS University of London.

Innovation

BRAC University supports innovation through its Innovation Hub which incubates student and faculty startups. Notable projects include a mobile health application developed by engineering students and a microfinance platform designed by business students for rural entrepreneurs. The university regularly partners with international organizations such as the World Bank and UNDP on joint research initiatives. BRAC Onnesha, the first student-built nanosatellite, represents a major innovation achievement. The Robotics Club of BRAC University (ROBU) and BRACU Mongol Tori (official mars rover team) foster student innovation. The BRAC University Computer Club (BUCC) with 172 members supports tech innovation. The university's Entrepreneurship Development Forum (BUEDF) promotes entrepreneurial thinking. BRACU collaborates with industry through research partnerships and MoUs. The HCCS Research Group advances human-centered computing innovation. Technology transfer occurs through research commercialization and industry partnerships. The university's liberal arts approach encourages interdisciplinary innovation combining technology, social sciences, and business. FIT Inc. collaboration and BOT Engineers incubator are examples of industry partnerships for innovation.
