United International University (UIU)

United International University was established in 2003 under the patronage of the United Group, one of Bangladesh's largest conglomerates. Starting with just 76 students, it has grown to serve over 7,000 students on its 8.25-acre campus at United City, Madani Avenue, Badda, Dhaka. The university's motto is "Quest for Excellence."

UIU is organized into 4 schools: the School of Science and Engineering, the School of Business and Economics, the School of Humanities and Social Sciences, and the School of Life Sciences. The Institute of Natural Sciences handles foundational mathematics, physics, and chemistry. The university's 11 departments offer programs in computer science and engineering, data science, electrical and electronic engineering, civil engineering, business administration, accounting and information systems, economics, English, media studies and journalism, environment and development studies, pharmacy, and biotechnology and genetic engineering.

The faculty includes approximately 320 full-time and 100 adjunct professors, with 420 total. The CSE department alone has more than 16 PhD holders, including Professor Dr. Md. Abul Kashem Mia, who serves as the Vice-Chancellor. Other notable CSE faculty include Dr. A.K.M. Muzahidul Islam, Dr. Md. Rakibul Haque, and Dr. Mohammad Shafiul Alam. The business school is led by Professor Dr. Md. Masudul Haque and includes Dr. Farzana Islam and Dr. Md. Shahidul Islam. Three UIU faculty members have been featured in the Stanford University World's Top 2% Scientists list.

Undergraduate admission requires a minimum HSC GPA of 2.5. The admission test covers English, mathematics, general knowledge, and analytical skills with equal weighting of 25 percent each. Students with a GPA of 5.0 can qualify for direct admission. The acceptance rate is approximately 40 to 49 percent. The application fee is BDT 1,000, and applications are submitted through admission.uiu.ac.bd. The university follows a trimester system with intakes in Spring, Summer, and Fall. Graduate programs include MBA, Executive MBA, MSc in CSE, MA in English, and Master in Development Studies.

Tuition is BDT 6,500 per credit. Total program costs range from approximately BDT 780,000 for a 120-credit BBA to BDT 1,040,000 for a 160-credit pharmacy program. CSE and EEE at 140 credits cost approximately BDT 910,000 each. The one-time admission fee is BDT 20,000.

UIU disburses approximately 10 to 12 crore BDT in scholarships annually across 15 categories. These include merit scholarships of 25 to 100 percent, the Vice-Chancellor's scholarship for top batch performers, Dean's List awards for high semester GPAs, need-based scholarships, United Group employee scholarships, sports scholarships for national athletes, cultural scholarships, sibling discounts, alumni scholarships, freedom fighter quota scholarships, tribal and ethnic minority scholarships, distressed women scholarships covering full tuition, research fellowships for graduate students, and industry-sponsored scholarships from corporate partners. The university also has ACCA and CIMA linkage programs that provide exam fee waivers for accounting students.

Student life at UIU is exceptionally vibrant, with 29 active clubs and forums. The UIU Mars Rover Team is the university's most famous student group, having achieved third place globally and first in Asia at the University Rover Challenge 2026 in Utah, USA — a historic achievement for Bangladesh. Other technical clubs include the UIU Computer Club, Robotics Society, IEEE Student Branch, and Science Club. Cultural activities are handled by the Cultural Club, Music Club, Drama Society, Fine Arts Club, and Debate Society. The university also has a Film Club and Photography Society for creative students. Social clubs include the Volunteer Organization, Blood Donors' Club, Environment Club, and Social Welfare Club. Sports facilities support cricket, football, basketball, and chess through the UIU Sports Club. Professional development is supported by the Career Club, Alumni Forum, MBA Forum, and Law Forum.

Beyond the Mars Rover success, UIU students won the World Champion title at the International Blockchain Olympiad 2023. The university's 8th convocation saw 1,736 graduates. UIU hosts one of the largest job fairs in Bangladesh with over 100 top employers participating annually, including multinational companies like Google, Microsoft, Unilever, PwC, EY, and Deloitte, local conglomerates like Square, Beximco, and PRAN, banks like HSBC, Standard Chartered, and BRAC Bank, and tech companies like Brain Station 23 and BJIT. The sponsored research budget at UIU exceeds 100 million BDT.

In rankings, UIU is placed at 1401-plus globally by QS World University Rankings and 651st in Asia. THE Impact Rankings place it at 401-600 globally, making it second in Bangladesh. EduRank ranks it approximately 15th to 20th in Bangladesh.

However, UIU has experienced significant governance controversies. In April 2025, the Vice-Chancellor resigned amid alleged pressure from the Board of Trustees, triggering massive student protests demanding transparency in the appointment process. The campus was blocked for days and classes suspended until a new VC, Dr. Md. Abul Kashem Mia, was appointed after negotiations. In June 2025, multiple students were expelled for protesting administrative decisions, leading to a blockade of Madani Avenue and police intervention. The expelled students were later reinstated after mediation. A broader Board of Trustees standoff from 2024 to 2025 involved disagreements between the BOT and the academic council over governance, with allegations of corporate interference in academic affairs and concerns about academic freedom.

Over 20 active job openings are regularly posted at UIU, including faculty positions in CSE, EEE, business, and English, administrative roles like Registrar and Finance Officer, and research assistant positions for funded projects. The UIU Career and Placement Office provides active job placement services, and the university's alumni network is steadily growing across industries.

Admission Process

UIU accepts admissions for three trimesters per year: Spring (February), Summer (June), and Fall (October). Minimum undergraduate requirements: GPA 2.5/2nd division in both SSC and HSC, or total GPA 6.00 if either exam is below 2.50. For O-Level:
